A New Hands-On Experience Center

U.S. Water Heating Solutions is a family owned and operated business that was founded in early 2018 on the premise of transparency and quality, coupled with family values.

They noticed an immense need for water heater services and customer education across the Midwest, so they decided to become the solution. With experienced, local technicians in each state, they are able to ensure that service occurs as fast as possible.

Recently, they opened their very own, in-house training facility. They wanted their technicians to have hands-on experiences with training and the products they'd see out in the field. Raypak donated our WH7-0300B heater, which is their only conventional boiler for the training program.
